

Dear FCC,

I am outraged by the NAB's petition 04-160. Their attempt to squash emerging technology such as satellite radio and prevent this new medium from reaching it's full potential is just terrible.

I pay for XM Radio and the NAB should not be able to dictate what I listen to. XM Radio provides me quality programming with a great variety that I have grown to truly love.

Instead of trying to squash competition for their members, maybe the NAB should try to encourage their members to come up with new and innovative program that would make a compelling argument for new listeners.

I encourage you to reject petition 04-160. This is a brazen attempt by the NAB to protect the revenue of it's current members. It has nothing to do with consumers or the wants of the people, but everything to do with an old guard that refuses to make changes.

Sincerely,

Patrick Devlin
